

Fund Overview

The Warakirri Diversified Agriculture Fund has been established to purchase and develop a diversified portfolio of investment grade Australian agricultural assets and lease to high quality agricultural businesses (tenants) - a 'Core Agricultural Property' investment strategy.

Target Returns

The Fund aims to generate a total portfolio level internal rate of return (IRR) after fees, expenses and Fund level tax, of 7% to 11% per annum via a stable income stream from leasing out assets to high quality agricultural businesses and from long-term capital growth of the portfolio assets.

Income Return	3% to 6% p.a.
Capital Return	4% to 5% p.a.
Total Return	7% to 11% p.a.

Note: Target returns assume a long-term neutral gearing position of 25%. Capital return is CPI + 1% to 2% p.a.

Investment Strategy

The Fund's investment strategy is to buy, develop and own a diverse portfolio of agricultural assets aligned with the Fund's long-term strategic asset allocation strategy.

The investment portfolio will be developed over time within the strategic portfolio asset allocation, with individual investments and portfolio weighting subject to opportunities and value. The Fund will focus on higher value sectors with attractive lease terms and quality tenants. Examples of likely assets in higher value sectors are nuts, fruit, vineyards, intensive livestock, agriculture infrastructure and water. An indicative long-term portfolio asset allocation is provided below.

Why Invest in Australian Agriculture?

The global thematic of rising populations, increasing wealth and changing population demographics is not new and remains valid, occurring at or above the predicted rate of the 2006 and 2009 United Nations studies. An increasing global demand for food, particularly in Asia, provides an opportunity for Australian agriculture to capitalise on its competitive advantages and future growth prospects to deliver strong investment returns. An investment in agriculture offers:

- Competitive risk adjusted returns over the long term;
- A low level of volatility relative to other asset classes;
- Returns uncorrelated to other traditional asset classes;
- Defensive characteristics in certain market cycles, particularly during periods of high inflation and financial market shocks.
